

I am concerned about priority being given to LPFM stations over current FM translator services. Specifically, if this priority is given, national broadcasts from stations such as K-LOVE will be effected, leaving me and thousands like me without the vital service that K-LOVE provides. K-LOVE serves my family and our community by offering family-friendly, uplifting, positive, encouraging, salvation-focused music and messages. This cannot be said about other radio stations. Have you heard the junk that passes for music and conversation lately! Not only is K-LOVE always on in my home and car, we search for it on the radio waves whenever we travel. K-LOVE is not only a radio station, it is a friend who is always there, caring for people and their salvation. It also reaches people who are lonely and afraid whether in their homes, cars, at work, in the hospital, or in jail. K-LOVE reaches people's hearts as no other media can. There is no substitute for K-LOVE and the manner in which it reaches people. It is in the public interest to protect services such as K-LOVE because they stand alone in the media marketplace offering: non-vulgar music safe for the whole family to hear; positive and encouraging words; and pointing the way to salvation through Jesus Christ.
